

Senior Mobility Planning Toolkit

HOW TO PLAN FOR SUCCESS

Before you begin any conversations about a senior driver's safe driving and mobility needs, follow these four easy steps:

1. Do Your Research
2. Prepare for Respectful Conversations
3. Assess Your Loved One's Driving Ability & Modify
4. Put a Mobility Plan into Action

On the following pages, review the worksheets and checklists to help you complete each step.

PROJECT PLAN STEPS

Use four simple steps to create a successful mobility plan for your senior loved one.

More resources are available at seniordriving.aaa.com.

SAFE DRIVING STATISTICS FOR SENIORS

Jot down some of the facts you have learned about the state of safety for senior drivers that will resonate with your loved one:

STEP 1: DO YOUR RESEARCH

Document the facts about safe driving challenges for seniors as well as your loved one’s current health status, financial means and driving ability. Do not forget to include medications. Many medications can influence safe driving.

Refer back to section, Is It Time, in the online module for safety statistics. You may also go to aaafoundation.org to review the “Older American Drivers and Traffic Safety Culture: A LongROAD Study” for more statistics.

CURRENT HEALTH STATUS

Knowing your loved one’s health status is important because you can assess together what health issues may affect safe driving ability. If you do not know your loved one’s current health status, write down observations with vision, hearing, mobility or cognition that may be of concern. Also, reach out to other family members to include their observations as well.

Medical Condition	How it affects driving	Any observations

Vision Status	How it affects driving	Any observations

Hearing Status	How it affects driving	Any observations

Motor Skills Status	How it affects driving	Any observations

Cognitive Status	How it affects driving	Any observations

STEP 1: DO YOUR RESEARCH

Document the facts about safe driving challenges for seniors as well as your loved one’s current health status, financial means and driving ability. Do not forget to include medications. Many medications can influence safe driving.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has various brochures located at seniordriving.aaa.com that provide more helpful information to modify driving behaviors while living with common medical conditions such as diabetes.

CURRENT MEDICATIONS

Most seniors are taking at least one medication and most likely more. Take the time to review your loved one's current list of medications and their potential side effects that inhibit safe driving.

Medication	Side Effects	Any Observations

STEP 1: DO YOUR RESEARCH

Document the facts about safe driving challenges for seniors as well as your loved one's current health status, financial means and driving ability. Do not forget to include medications. Many medications can influence safe driving.

Use Roadwise Rx, a free, confidential, online tool developed by the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety. Adults can use it to explore how medications may affect safe driving. More information is located at: seniordriving.aaa.com/understanding-mind-body-changes/medical-conditions-medications.

FINANCIAL MEANS FOR MOBILITY CHANGES

Caregivers and senior drivers alike may have financial concerns since many seniors are on fixed incomes. If it is determined that needed changes must happen such as buying or leasing a new car or utilizing alternate transportation options to fit the senior driver’s mobility needs, it is important to determine the costs associated with these changes. Once the financial costs are determined, caregivers can work with a senior driver to design a mobility plan that is realistic, affordable and acceptable to all.

STEP 1: DO YOUR RESEARCH

Document the facts about safe driving challenges for seniors as well as your loved one’s current health status, financial means and driving ability. Do not forget to include medications. Many medications can influence safe driving.

Review AAA’s Your Driving Costs, an informational brochure published annually by AAA to help you calculate what you are paying to drive.

MINIMIZE NEGATIVE IMPACTS OF A SAFETY CONVERSATION

In reality, it is difficult for many loved ones to acknowledge a proverbial elephant in the room. Before you start a conversation, know why you want to meet, know potential sources of stress so everyone sees “the elephant in the room”, and determine the best person to actually converse with your senior loved one.

Why do you want to discuss your senior driver’s safe driving needs?

Question	Yes or No. Provide details if necessary.
Have there been recent traffic violations/crashes?
Is there a recent health change causing concern?
Has anyone reached out to you with driving concerns?
Are you just planning?
Other

What are the potential sources of stress caregivers and the senior driver may be experiencing about a concerned safety issue?

Source of Stress	Why? Provide details if necessary.
Loss of Freedom and Sociability
Financial Constraints
Physical Safety
Other

Who will lead the conversation(s) with your senior driver? Why?

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR RESPECTFUL CONVERSATIONS

This may be the toughest part of the plan, but knowing the dynamics of a respectful conversation will minimize any emotional charges each of you may experience while discussing such an important safety topic. It is also wise to practice mock conversations so you can head off any emotional outbursts that may potentially happen.

PREPARE & PRACTICE FOR THE CONVERSATION(S)

As you prepare, verse yourself in successful negotiation tactics that provide win-win scenarios. Additionally, practice makes perfect. You and other loved ones know your senior driver well. Take the time to practice from both the perspective of the messenger and from the perspective of the senior driver. These guidelines will help minimize heart-wrenching situations that may jeopardize the goal of the meetings: safe mobility for your senior loved one.

Negotiate for positive results when you have a conversation:

1. Separate people from the problem.
2. Focus on Interests, not positions.
3. Invent or create options for mutual gain.
4. Use objective criteria taking the emotion out of the conversation.

When to have a conversation:

- Select the best day of the week. Make sure you and your loved one have enough time to have a thorough discussion without potential time constraints.
- Select the best time during the day. For many, mid-morning may be a time when one is alert, responsive, and in a good mood. Make sure to select a time that minimizes any rescheduling of a routine. For example, do not select a time when someone typically goes to church or has morning coffee with friends at the local coffee shop. What is most important is each of you agrees on the best time.
- Select a neutral location. You will not want it to appear that you (or anyone else) is attacking or ganging up on the individual.
- Have your resources ready. Plan to provide safe driving information to assist your loved one. Although you may have analyzed and researched lots of information, this may be the first time your loved one is digesting the idea.
- Considerations. Determine the consequences and other issues that may arise in conjunction with “driving retirement”. Should the senior “age in place,” continue living where they are, or move to an area that has better access to public transportation? Are they comfortable with using public transportation? Is a friend or family member available to practice using public transportation or a service such as Uber with the senior so they feel more confident?

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR RESPECTFUL CONVERSATIONS

This may be the toughest part of the plan, but knowing the dynamics of a respectful conversation will minimize any emotional charges each of you may experience while discussing such an important safety topic. It is also wise to practice mock conversations so you can head off any emotional outbursts that may potentially happen.

ROLE-PLAY SCENARIOS

Choose a scenario referenced below or create your own. Make sure you play both the role of the messenger and the senior driver. Not only will you be able to anticipate some potential roadblocks while you practice, you will infuse more empathy for the challenges your senior loved one may be facing. Prior to any negotiation with the individual, go through at least ONE of the role-play scenarios with a friend or family member. If possible, choose another individual invested in this process.

Scenario Group 1

Consider these issues regarding safe driving/driver safety. Role-play through a conversation with the people mentioned:

- My 88-year-old father drinks two scotch whiskeys at happy hour and drives home. He claims this is safe.
- My 84-year-old mother had an event last week where she drove her car to a local store located approximately 5 minutes from home; she was found 7 hours later. She does not know what happened or how she got there. A doctor evaluated my mother at the hospital and told her she was "fine".

Scenario Group 2

Consider these issues regarding your own safe driving status. Consider a reversed role-play as if you are the driver:

- I have had two crashes in the last 21 days.
- I am 68 years old and have received several tickets in the last few months.

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR RESPECTFUL CONVERSATIONS

This may be the toughest part of the plan, but knowing the dynamics of a respectful conversation will minimize any emotional charges each of you may experience while discussing such an important safety topic. It is also wise to practice mock conversations so you can head off any emotional outbursts that may potentially happen.

ROLE-PLAY SCENARIOS, CONTINUED

Prior to any negotiation with the individual, go through at least ONE of the role-play scenarios with a friend or family member. If possible, choose another individual invested in this process.

Scenario Group 3

Consider these issues regarding physical limitations:

- I am 84 years old and use a walker due to my bad knees and weakness. I believe I can still drive safely within our small town.
- My mother's 92-year-old friend is having difficulty driving, but her children refuse to discuss the subject with her. My mother would like to broach the subject without risking her friendship or incurring the wrath of her family.
- I have a 94-year-old father who is not stable on his feet, and his doctor says that he should not drive.
- My father is 91 years old and still driving. We have heard reports from the community of his erratic and reckless driving (We live in other towns). It is doubtful he would just surrender the keys to his vehicle. We are afraid he may crash or hurt himself or, worse, hurt or kill someone else.
- Mom shows signs of dementia. She only drives short distances, and my sister always accompanies her.

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR SUCCESSFUL CONVERSATIONS

This may be the toughest part of the plan, but knowing the dynamics of a respectful conversation will minimize any emotional charges each of you may experience while discussing such an important safety topic. It is also wise to practice mock conversations so you can head off any emotional outbursts that may potentially happen.

ROLE-PLAY SCENARIOS, CONTINUED

Prior to any negotiation with the individual, go through at least ONE of the role-play scenarios with a friend or family member. If possible, choose another individual invested in this process.

Scenario Group 4

Consider these issues regarding alternate transportation:

- I am too anxious and uncomfortable about using transportation services to stop driving myself.
- We have talked with Mom about our concerns and have encouraged her to just let us take her where she needs to go, but her pride is getting in the way, and she gets very upset with us.
- When my brother approached my dad about his driving, my dad was reasonable about it. My dad commented he could not afford to stop driving because using a taxi or shuttle service would be too expensive.

Scenario Group 5

Consider these issues regarding care and concern for others:

- I work as a caregiver for seniors, and I am concerned about the driving safety of some of my clients.
- How can I make sure I do not make my dad angry if I talk to him about his driving?
- How do I get my dad to complete a driving assessment without offending him?
- If I could ride along with my mother to observe her driving, I would do it, but, unfortunately, I live in a different state visiting only a few times each year. How can I check in on her driving?

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR RESPECTFUL CONVERSATIONS

This may be the toughest part of the plan, but knowing the dynamics of a respectful conversation will minimize any emotional charges each of you may experience while discussing such an important safety topic. It is also wise to practice mock conversations so you can head off any emotional outbursts that may potentially happen.

EVALUATING THE RIGHT DRIVER ASSESSMENT OPTIONS

Many families may urgently take the keys away from a senior driver when a safety incident occurs. Avoid the automatic reaction and take the proper steps to evaluate the senior's safe driving ability. The results may surprise you. Sometimes simple adjustments can avoid another safety incident and extend the safe driving ability of a senior. As you review the assessment options, look at your state's licensing policies and practices. You may need to coordinate licensing requirements with assessment results.

STATE RESOURCES*

AAA Northeast has put together resources for senior drivers by state that may include links to state licensing policies and practices. Review your senior driver's state licensing requirements before you determine which assessment tool is the right choice for your loved one. Click on a state below to review the requirements. (Press Ctrl+Click)

Connecticut

Massachusetts

New Hampshire

New Jersey

New York

Rhode Island

Hot down appropriate licensing policies and practices below for easy reference in the future:

IMPORTANT: We offer state-specific resources for your convenience, and we will do our best to keep the links and active resources up-to-date. From time to time, website addresses and active resources may change.

STEP 3: ASSESS YOUR LOVED ONE'S DRIVING ABILITY & MODIFY

Know your options for assessing driving ability before you meet with your senior driver. Fear may impel loved ones to take the keys away after one stumble. As you converse with your loved one, work together to choose the right option. Sometimes simple modifications to the car and adjusting some driving habits can extend safe driving.

Resources by state are located towards the back of this document.

ASSESSMENT OPTIONS

AAA ASSESSMENT TOOLS

AAA offers effective assessments that may be a good starting point. These assessments are convenient and easy to use in your own home.

- Driver 65 Plus Self-Assessment: This is a self-rating tool designed to help a senior driver examine his or her own safe driving ability.
- Roadwise Review™ Online Assessment: This is an online and interactive assessment. A senior driver will need another person to assist with the various exercises.

CONFIDENTIAL & INDEPENDENT ASSESSMENTS

- Physicians, hospitals, occupational therapists and driver rehabilitation specialists can help assess at what level a medical condition impairs driving or help counsel a driver about appropriate interventions to extend safe driving. If the driver or a family member requests an evaluation, the evaluation results will remain private due to HIPAA.
- It is best to call your health insurance provider to find options of coverage and to locate medical professionals in your area.

STATE-MANDATED ASSESSMENTS

- If there is a serious impairment that requires urgent intervention, a physician, law enforcement representative or family member can report a concern about a driver to their state’s Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)/Registry of Motor Vehicles’ (RMV) medical advisory board. The medical advisory board will send the driver to take a mandatory road test to evaluate physical and cognitive ability. If the person fails the road test, his or her driver’s license is void.

MAKING SOME DRIVING CHANGES

It is important to know many seniors will outlive safe driving abilities by 6-10 years. Even though we may outlive our ability to drive, there are many options available to modify driving behaviors to extend a senior's driving career.

Here are some helpful tips to review with your loved one:

- Tip 1: Understand how we age. The natural aging process affects vision, hearing, reaction time and mental fitness. Learn what changes are happening with your loved one and then learn how to adjust to these natural changes while driving. The Older and Wiser Driver Brochure will get you started in understanding the aging process with recommendations to help compensate for these changes.

Jot down specific age-related changes your loved one is experiencing:

- Tip 2: Take a class. Your loved one may never have taken formal driving instruction before he or she started driving. AAA Northeast offers Driver Improvement courses for members. Sometimes a little refresher may build confidence in a senior's driving ability. To learn more go to AAA Northeast's website at: aaa.com/driverimprovement.

Jot down the classes with dates, times and locations convenient for your senior driver:

- Tip 3: Find smart car features to help with physical adjustments. Whether buying a new car or learning more about the features of your senior's existing car, vehicle features and technology have come a long way since your senior began driving. There are various adaptive features designed specifically for seniors such as pedal extenders and special mirrors.

Jot down the specific safety and comfort features you would like to explore that may help your loved one drive more comfortably and safely:

MOBILITY PLAN WORKSHEET

Use a worksheet to design a custom mobility plan for your senior driver or retired driver. Families working together can make a successful transition.

Here are some helpful tips when designing your own plan:

- Explore other forms of transportation and recognize some options may complement or substitute a senior's driving.
- Document your senior's mobility needs noting regular and recurring transportation needs.
- Locate resources based on impromptu needs to ensure complete flexibility.
- Design a plan that has a monthly as well as a weekly view of transportation needs.
- Distribute to all who need to be aware of your loved one's transportation schedule.
- Place the worksheet in a convenient place digitally or physically so you can easily reference it on a regular basis.
- Review the transportation plan periodically to ensure the plan continually meets your senior loved one's needs.

STEP 4: PUT A MOBILITY PLAN INTO ACTION

Once you and your senior driver have created positive dialogue and agreements regarding safe driving ability, it is important to put a mobility plan in place to ensure your loved one feels independent, free and in control of his or her life even if the senior driver becomes a retired driver.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LICENSE RENEWAL RULES FOR OLDER DRIVERS

TIME LIMITS: All drivers must renew every five years.

VISION TEST: A vision test is required at renewal.

DMV personnel will conduct the test free. - Outside mirrors on a vehicle.
- Vehicles equipped with a mechanical aid.
- Vehicles equipped with automatic transmission.
- Driving only while wearing a prosthetic aid.

SENIOR CITIZEN/DISABLED RESIDENT TRANSPORTATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Many NJ senior citizens and people with disabilities require assistance in meeting their need for available and accessible transportation. To meet this need, monies from casino tax revenues are available to the counties for local para-transit services. Services may include door-to-door and fixed route service and, local/user-fare subsidies.

Individuals 60 and over can find out about the availability of services in his/her county from his/her Area Agency on Aging by calling 1+ (877) 222-3737.

The fares are no more than one-half the regular one-way fare on all intrastate bus and rail routes and most interstate bus and rail routes into adjacent states (e.g., New York, Pennsylvania.) Excluded are those not accepting the NJ TRANSIT round trip excursion fare. Only the person to whom it is issued and kept in that person's possession during the entire ride, may use the NJ TRANSIT ID Card, which is not transferable. If the card is lost or stolen, an application must be made for a replacement card.

REDUCED FARE PROGRAM ID CARD

In order to be eligible for a reduced fare, elderly or people with disabilities must present either a valid Medicare card or a Reduced Fare Program identification card upon boarding a bus or purchasing a train ticket. The reduced fare card will be valid until age 65, at which time most individuals receive a Medicare card. At age 65, all persons not possessing a Medicare card must submit an application for a (new) Reduced Fare Program ID card whether or not they had one previously.

NY DRIVER RE-EVALUATIONS

The purpose of the driver re-evaluation program is to allow a driver to show he or she is qualified to drive. DMV will not remove driving privileges based on age or based on any standard except driving ability.

More information is available through the NY DMV at:

New York State Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)

Attn: Driver Improvement Bureau

6 Empire State Plaza

Albany, NY 12228

ABOUT DRIVER RE-EVALUATIONS

For the benefit of highway safety, the DMV can require an evaluation of a driver whose skills and abilities are in doubt. The DMV will examine reliably reported information to determine if a driver needs to be re-evaluated. The best indicator of driving skills and abilities is the performance of the driver on the highway.

Two of the most important performance abilities for drivers of all ages are:

1. The ability to see hazards clearly.
2. The ability to respond quickly to changes in driving conditions.

WHEN CAN A DRIVER BE RE-EVALUATED?

New York State Vehicle & Traffic Law Section 506 (1) states: "If the Commissioner has 'reasonable grounds' to believe that a person holding a license is not qualified to drive a motor vehicle, the Commissioner may require such person submit to an examination to determine their qualifications."

WHAT ARE "REASONABLE GROUNDS"?

"Reasonable grounds" means that the DMV must have a "specific reason" related to driving performance why a driver needs to be contacted for a driving re-evaluation.

A "specific reason" is a driving incident, behavior, action or other cause reported to the DMV by a physician, a police officer, or someone who knows or observed the driver.

HOW IS A RE-EVALUATION REQUEST SENT TO THE DMV?

DMV receives reports that a driver may have a medical condition that affects his or her ability to operate a motor vehicle safely from:

- Police officers by form DS-5 (Police Agency Request for Driver Review).
- Physicians by form DS-6 (Physician's Request for Driver Review).
- Concerned individuals by form DS-7 (Request for Driver Review).

If an individual submits a Request for Driver Review form, it must include their name and signature.

Note: The DMV DOES NOT accept re-evaluation requests by phone or by email.

Forms are mailed to:

Medical Review Unit
NYS DMV
6 Empire State Plaza, Room 337
Albany, NY 12228

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE MEDICAL REVIEW UNIT RECEIVES A RE-EVALUATION REQUEST FORM?

- The Medical Review Unit forwards the form to the DMV Testing and Investigation Unit in the area where the driver resides.
- A license examiner from the DMV Testing and Investigation Unit reviews the form to determine if there is a reason to re-evaluate the driver.
- If the examiner determines that there is a valid reason, the DMV examiner sends the driver a certified letter providing the following details:
 - The driver in question is requested to come to the DMV office for an interview.
 - The reason for the interview.
 - What items and information to bring to the interview.
 - If the driver in question does not appear for the interview, the DMV will suspend the driver's license.
 - A vision test is required.

The letter also may indicate the driver is required to bring one or more of the following:

- A Physicians Statement form (MV-80) completed by a doctor.
- A registered and inspected vehicle.
- A driver with a valid driver's license.

Vision Test Options:

- The driver can either take the vision test at the interview or bring a Vision Test Report form (MV-619) completed by a vision care professional.
- If your vision care professional is enrolled in the DMV Vision Registry, the professional will notify you that your test results will be entered electronically and you will not need a Vision Test Report.

The Physician's Statement must include:

- A statement that the driver is a patient of the doctor.
- The names of medicines the doctor has prescribed for the patient.
- If the patient suffered any loss of body control, awareness or unconsciousness due to this condition.
- The doctor's professional opinion of the patient's ability to drive.

WHAT HAPPENS AT THE INTERVIEW?

The DMV license examiner will:

- Explain the information that was received and allow the driver to respond to the information.
- If a Physicians Statement (MV-80) is required, the license examiner will review this form as well.
- Based on the interview and test results, the license examiner will determine the next steps.
- The license examiner can also require the driver to:
 - Take a Road Sign/Written Test
 - Take a Driving Skills Test

THE DRIVING TEST

The re-evaluation driving test is the same road test a new driver takes to qualify for a driver's license. If a driving test is required, it includes:

- Driving safely in traffic
- Left turns and right turns
- A three-point turn
- Parallel parking

IF...	Then...
A Physician's Statement is required and the driver does not bring an acceptable Physicians Statement to the interview, The Physician's Statement indicates the driver is not medically fit to drive,	The DMV will suspend the driver license until an acceptable Physicians Statement is submitted. The driver's license will be suspended.
The driver does not appear for the interview,	The DMV will suspend the driver's license until the driver appears.
If the driver fails the Vision Test or the Road Sign/Written Test,	The DMV suspends the driver license until the driver can pass the required test.
The driver cannot pass the requested driving test,	The DMV will immediately revoke the driver license. <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ The driver may want to consider the services of a Driver Rehabilitation Specialist to requalify for licensure in the future.

HOW TO REQUALIFY FOR LICENSURE FROM A RE-EVALUATION REVOCATION?

A driver's license revocation resulting from a re-evaluation does not need to be permanent.

To requalify for a new driver license, the driver must:

- Wait at least 30 days from date of revocation to reapply for a driver's license.
- Apply for a Learner's Permit at your local DMV Office (written test is waived)
- Pass a Vision Test
- Take a 5-hour Pre-licensing Course
- Pass a Road Test

If the driver qualifies and passes the road test, the DMV issues a new driver's license and the driver is on probation for six months from the date of the road test.

During the six-month probation period, the driver's license is suspended if:

- The driver is convicted of a violation for speeding, reckless driving or following too closely, or
- The driver is convicted of any two other moving traffic violations.

ARE THERE OTHER REASONS A DRIVER CAN BE RE-EVALUATED?

The DMV has an accident re-examination program that identifies drivers who have been in three or more reportable accidents within an 18-month period.

- The program includes drivers of all ages.
- A reportable accident is any accident in NYS that causes a fatality, a personal injury or damage over $1,000 to the property of any one person.
- The DMV sends the driver a letter to come to a DMV office for an interview and for possible eye, written and road tests.

Following the reexamination, the hearing officer will decide whether any action should be taken regarding your driving privilege, such as restrictions, probation, suspension or revocation.

THE RESTRICTED DRIVER LICENSE

Sometimes, a physical or mental condition can impair a driver's ability to operate safely a motor vehicle. The most common of these conditions is poor vision, but others, which may be age-related, include cognitive skills like memory, coordination and flexibility. In some circumstances, older drivers may have a restriction placed on their driver license. The types of restrictions vary based on the results of the vision test, driving test, and the driving examiner's assessment. A restricted driver license is intended to ensure that you are driving within your abilities.

Some of the most common license restrictions are those that:

- Require eyeglasses, corrective contact lenses, or bioptic telescopic lens to be worn at certain times.
- Permit driving from sunrise to sunset only, or prohibit driving during rush hour.
- Restrict the geographical area in which a person is permitted to drive, or prohibit freeway driving.
- Require special mechanical devices, or an additional side mirror on the vehicle.
- Require extra support in order to ensure a safe and correct driving position.
